I'm a wise Computer Scientist, I'm glad to share my knowledge here

About Me   What's New   My Project

In my career of a computer scientist, I learned a lot from the community and my colleagues. Now it's time for me to give something back. I'll probably daily update some tutorial, news or interesting stroy.I usually code in C++, but I can code in several kinds of language. So you can expect all kinds of tutorial for the trending language or skills. And you can also find interesting news from the industry here.
